

William Ming Liu, Ph.D. is Professor and Program Coordinator of Counseling Psychology at The University of Iowa. He received his doctorate in counseling psychology from the University of Maryland in 2000. His research interests are in social class and classism, men and masculinity, and multicultural competencies. He is currently the editor for the Psychology of Men and Masculinity, an American Psychological Association (APA) journal. In recent reviews, he has been identified as one of the most frequent producers of research in the Psychology of Men and Masculinity and most cited in multicultural competency research. He received the Emerging Leader award from the Committee on Socioeconomic Status (APA), Emerging Young Professional Award (Division 45, APA), and the Researcher of the Year Award (Division 51, APA). He is an editor of the Handbook of Multicultural Competencies in Counseling and Psychology (Sage, 2003), an editor of Culturally Responsive Counseling with Asian American Men (2010, Routledge), the author of Social Class and Classism in the Helping Professions: Research, Theory, and Practice (2011, Sage), and the editor of the Handbook of Social Class in Counseling (2013, Oxford).

Acknowledgement

Funded in part by a Graduate Psychology Education grant from the Health Resources and Services Administration of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

The DEPARTMENT OF COUNSELING AND EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

Twentieth ANNUAL MULTICULTURAL RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM

Thursday, April 28, 2016

4:30 – 8:00 p.m.

O'Donnell Hall, Room 111 and Atrium

Sponsored by

Department of Counseling and Educational Psychology
Health Resources & Services Administration Grant
College of Education Dean's Office

Schedule

4:30 p.m.

Counseling Psychology doctoral students research presentations

5:30 p.m.

Keynote Speaker: William Ming Liu, Ph.D.

- Professor and Program Coordinator, University of Iowa
- Licensed Psychologist
- Editor, Psychology of Men and Masculinity
- Board of Directors, Shelter House, Community Shelter & Transitional Services

Presentation Title:

“The Psychology of Classism, Economic Privilege, and Racism, and the Responsibilities for Mental Health Professionals”

7:00 p.m.

- Catered reception in O’Donnell Hall, Lobby
- Poster presentations of College of Education graduate students’ research projects

Doctoral Student Presentations

Joshua K. Turner, M.S.

Adult Latino/a's Perceptions of Discrimination in Healthcare Settings

Jessica Rodríguez-Herrera, M.P.H.

Una Desesperación Muy Fea: Exploring the Psychological Impact of Deportation

Andrea González, M.A.

Experiences of Gay Affirming Religiously Conservative Individuals

Sibella Salazar, M.A.

Understanding and Healing Historical Trauma: Perspectives from Elders

Helen Youngju Kim, M.A.

Disordered Eating Among Asian American Women: A Racially Expanded Model of Objectification Theory

Chelsea Bridges, M.S.

Examining Pretending Orgasm & Sexual Satisfaction for Women